Movyans Skolyow Meythrin (Nursery Schools Movement) has been successfully running its bilingual Cornish-English school in Redruth (called Skol Veythrin Karenza) for the last 6 months now with 10 children and their families happily attending every Saturday morning. Children between 2 and 5 years old and their families can learn Cornish together in a fun, relaxed and friendly atmosphere. The class has two qualified volunteer teachers.

Bilingual education is an asset for children's education and development and the school also promote the importance for children in Cornwall to know about the place where they live, their culture and heritage.
