PART I – PUBLIC SESSION

1520.1 To receive apologies for absence.

Apologies were received from Cllrs Craze and Collins (other commitments)

1520.2 Members to declare any disclosable pecuniary interests or non-registerable interests (including details thereof) in respect of any item(s) on this Agenda.

None were declared.

1520.3 To suspend Standing Orders to allow the public to speak.

Unanimously RESOLVED to suspend Standing Orders to allow the public to speak [Proposed Cllr H Biscoe; Seconded Cllr Tremayne]

1520.4 To allow the public to put questions before the council.

1520.4.1 Mr Childs expressed his concerns regarding PA23/00671. As owner of the neighbouring property, he stated that the applicant intended to use the courtyard owned by him as a fire escape. While Murdoch House was currently permitted to access this area as a fire escape, this was seldom used and had very little impact. The steel gates that opened onto Cross Street were kept locked for security reasons and would continue to be so. In addition, the proposed fire escape door was directly adjacent to an intended addition to his property which would block the access. There would be no means of policing the use of this doorway and with a multi-occupancy unit, there could be as many as 10-14 people potentially using the exit as a back door which would be an invasion of Mr Childs' privacy. The ground in the courtyard was very uneven, consisting of slate, cobbles and earth which could be a trip hazard especially as unlit at night. In addition, it was unsuitable for wheelchair users. Mr Childs also wished to correct a previous statement made on the planning portal and apologised for comments in relation to social housing. He expressed the belief that any tenants would raise the same issues. The Chair thanked Mr Childs for his input and time.

Ms Reeve spoke as Chair of Redruth 2000 and also spoke against PA23/00671. Ms Reeve suggested that the application did not accord with the values which had emerged from recent work and stated that the proposals would ruin a Grade II listed storefront. She stated that the proposed bin storage was in an unsuitable location and asked the Planning Committee not to support the application.

Mr Rodda spoke as the applicant in relation to PA23/00424. He spoke to the Committee about the history of the creamery and its benefits to the local community and farmers. Mr Rodda also stated the energy generated by the proposals would only be used by the business and not sold off to energy companies. The Chair thanked Mr Rodda for his time.

Ms Smith spoke as a resident of Redruth in relation to PA23/00671. She stated that she was a strong supporter of equality and wished to express concerns over the language used around social housing.

1520.5 To reinstate Standing Orders

Unanimously RESOLVED to re-instate Standing Orders [Proposed Cllr Tremayne; Seconded Cllr A Biscoe].

1520.6 To consider the planning applications.

The planning applications were dealt with in accordance with the attached Annex A to these minutes.

Development Management update from Hayley Jewels, Head of Development Management

Despite a drop in applications generally towards the end of last year, February and March saw applications submissions rise to around 1100 per month, and without a full complement of staff we are still feeling very busy. We are all doing our best to determine applications as efficiently as possible and to try and keep you updated as best we can, and I would like to thank you for your understanding.

The first discovery phase of the Regulatory Services review has identified some minor improvements that could be made to our systems and processes which may ease a little pressure on the time our staff are spending on some back-office processes. It has also identified improvements that could be made to our website which will be explored further in the coming months.

Agents will have received an email last week regarding changes to our expedited validation process effective from 1 May 2023. We will no longer validate applications where information required under the Local List has not been submitted with the planning application as we are finding that in many cases the information was not being received in good time, or sometimes not at all, resulting in delays which were not identified until the later weeks of the determination period. Further information can be found below under 'Missing Information when Submitting Planning Applications'. We will review our position at regular intervals.

The government has been busy publishing consultations on proposed changes, some of which have now closed but are still worth reading if you haven't done so already, I appreciate the raft of changes that are being proposed are hard to keep up with. Highlighted consultations below.

Happy reading and I hope that you have a prosperous Spring with some warm sunshine, let's hope!

Hayley

Government Consultations

The technical consultation on stronger performance of local planning authorities (LPA's) supported through an increase in planning fees was published in February and closed on 25 April. In brief, the consultation sought views on increasing planning fees by 35% for major applications and 25% for all other applications, together with a proposal for fees to be adjusted annually in line with inflation. It sought views on how to increase resources and capacity for LPAs. Additionally, it proposed a new approach to how performance of LPAs is measured, which included suggestions on measuring the speed in terms of the average time taken to determine applications, quality in terms of appeals allowed, use of extensions of time, backlog of work, planning enforcement, and committee decisions. Information can be found at Technical consultation: Stronger performance of local planning authorities supported through an increase in planning fees - GOV.UK \(www.gov.uk\)

The consultation on changes to permitted development rights to support temporary recreational campsites, renewable energy and film making was published in February and closed on 25 April. Views were sought on the proposal to allow campsites to operate for 60 days per calendar year without having to apply for planning permission, further permitted rights for solar panels, and to increase the permitted right for land to be used for film making to 12 months in a 27-month period. Further details can be found at Permitted development rights: supporting temporary recreational campsites, renewable energy and film-making consultation - GOV.UK \(www.gov.uk\)

Introduction of a use class for short term lets and associated permitted development rights. This consultation is open until 7 June 2023 and seeks views on the introduction of a new use class for short term lets, along with associated permitted development rights to change from a dwellinghouse to a short term let, and vice versa. Information can be found at Introduction of a use class for short term lets and associated permitted development rights - GOV.UK \(www.gov.uk\)

Environmental outcomes Reports – a new approach to environmental assessments. This consultation is open until 9 June 2023 and seeks views on the outcome-based approach to the proposal within Part 6 of the Levelling Up and Regeneration Bill to secure powers to implement a new system of environmental assessment known as Environmental Outcomes Reports. Environmental Outcomes Reports: a new approach to environmental assessment - GOV.UK \(www.gov.uk\)

Missing information when submitting planning applications

For many years we have been validating applications where documents required under the Local List have not been submitted, provided that agents or applicants submit them within 14 days. This was introduced at a time when the requirements were not as complex as they are now; being an inevitable result of the increase in national and local policy requirements.

However, we are conscious that in many cases now we are not receiving the requested information in good time, or in some cases we are not receiving it at all, which is resulting in disputes and delays which are generally not identified until the later weeks of the determination period. The information is fundamental to making a decision and, in many instances, will require further consultation which further delays our determination times.

We have reviewed this arrangement in light of the high volume of work that we currently have, and we have decided that as of 1 May 2023 we will no longer validate applications where documents required under our Local List have not been provided. For those that are diligently submitting such information within 14 days I would like to thank you and to apologise for this further measure, but it is deemed necessary at this time to enable our officers to progress the applications to a determination as efficiently as possible. We will review our position at regular intervals.

We have recently updated our Validation Guide which we hope is more user friendly and can be used as a checklist. The guide can be found on our website validation-guide.pdf \(cornwall.gov.uk\)

For background, our workloads have significantly increased following a spike in application submissions in the Spring of 2021. Our validation times peaked at 26 days, but we have worked incredibly hard to reduce this to average around 6 working days. However, the pressure has moved from our validation team to our Planning Officers. Coupled with the loss of experienced staff, our planning officers are finding it difficult to progress applications within the determination times and we are heavily reliant on your goodwill in agreeing extension of times. Many other Councils have tried measures such as a complete shut down to the public for a period of time to catch up on backlogs of work, but we are resisting this measure as we don't believe it will address the problems that we are experiencing, nor does it provide good customer service. We have considered many options to boost the capacity of our teams and to recruit staff and will continue to do so but these measures have not made significant inroads as yet. We will continue to explore measures to boost capacity within our teams and would be happy to hear any examples of good practice you may have.

Government consultation on proposed planning changes: new Infrastructure Levy

On 17 March 2023, DLUHC launched its consultation on the technical design aspects of the Infrastructure Levy. This builds on publication of proposals for the new Levy set out in the Levelling up and Regeneration Bill in 2022. The consultation is open until 9 June 2023. The full consultation document can be viewed at Technical consultation on the Infrastructure Levy - GOV.UK \(www.gov.uk\).

The proposed Levy is to replace the current mechanisms for collecting developer contributions for infrastructure - Community Infrastructure Levy (CIL) and Section 106 (s106) agreements. The aim of the Levy is to collect at least as much funding for infrastructure as under these two existing mechanisms, but through a process which enables local authorities to capture increase in land values over time. The consultation paper sets out types of sites which might only pay the new Levy or a combination of Levy and s106.

The Levy will be a charge of the final value of a development over a set threshold. Proposals are that an indicative Levy liability will be calculated on approval of planning permission with a provisional payment being made close to completion of the scheme (there is currently no definition of 'completion', which is being left for the detail of the Regulations). A final adjustment will then be made on completion or sale of the development to reflect actual final value, and an additional Levy payment made if required.

Proposals set out affordable housing can be delivered as an in-kind payment through a new 'right to require' – which means a developer delivers affordable housing as a proportion of their Levy liability. The intention is the Levy delivers as much, if not more, on-site affordable housing as s106 developer contributions do now. As well as 'right to require', local authorities will be able to secure affordable housing using a 'grant pot' model. The Local authority could choose to use Levy receipts to top up the price a registered provider is prepared to pay for affordable housing units. This means that the developer will still receive the full market value for these additional homes. The government's position is that schemes comprised entirely of affordable housing will not be charged to the Levy.

It is proposed that the existing Neighbourhood and Administrative provisions are as under the current CIL mechanism. That is, to continue to pass on 15-25% of receipts to the Local Councils where the development is taking place, and to enable local authorities to retain 5% towards the cost of administering the system. Comments are sought on whether to retain exemptions currently available under CIL - self-build dwelling, residential annex or extension, social housing or charitable development.

Government are proposing to introduce the Levy through a 'test and learn' approach - a small number of representative authorities will implement the Levy, enabling government to monitor, evaluate and improve the Levy before it is rolled out and made mandatory across England at the end of this decade. Sites permitted before introduction of the Levy in an area, will continue to be subject to CIL and s106 requirements, as under current arrangements.

Planning Enforcement Team successful prosecution

The Planning Enforcement Team prosecuted Mr A Persaud, Mrs M Persaud and Mr S Roberts in respect of the non-compliance with an Enforcement Notice for the erection of 6 raised wooden platforms, the erection of 8 geodesic domes, 3 wooden toilet/shower units, erection of a triangular wooden structure, erection of 2 tents, excavations to create an amphitheatre, the laying of a sewage system and the creation of a track from the entrance of the site at Land South East of Carnkie Farm (Lavender Parc), Underlane, Wendron, TR13 0EH. The 3 defendants were found guilty at Bodmin Magistrates on 3 February 2023. Each defendant was fined £180 and ordered to pay a victim surcharge of £74 and a contribution to costs of £2000 each.

CIL Round 3 launch – 3 April 2023

Community groups can now apply to the Council for up to £100,000 to fund infrastructure projects that benefit children and young people. The third CIL fund launched at the start of this month, enabling community groups, town and parish councils and not for profit organisations to bid for between £20,000 and £100,000. Funding is available to support local infrastructure projects which focus on supporting children and young people and help to either alleviate the impact of development on an area or help development to come forward.

The previous first two rounds, held in 2020 and 2022, have already seen over £1.5m awarded to 35 local infrastructure projects across Cornwall that helped communities create much needed infrastructure in their areas. These included creating a link for parts of Falmouth Green Corridor, installing water refill stations at a number of popular locations around Cornwall, school extensions and creation of numerous play and skate parks.

Groups interested in applying for the funding should submit an expression of interest with a brief summary of the aims and objectives of their project. This will ensure that applicants only spend time and effort in working up a full application for eligible and appropriate projects. The initial Expression of Interest stage will run from Monday 3 April to Thursday 22 June, after which eligible projects will be invited to submit a full application. Applications must then be submitted by the end of October, with the successful projects expected to be announced in early 2024.

Climate Emergency DPD adopted

The Climate Emergency Development Plan Document (DPD) was adopted on 21 February 2023. The policies in the plan are now being used in the determination of planning applications. The validation guide has been updated to address the new requirements on the DPD and will go live and be effective from 1 April 2023 - Validation updates - Cornwall Council

The document sets out a suite of planning policies to help planning decisions respond to the challenges of climate change in Cornwall. The policies cover the key principles of green infrastructure, nature recovery, encourage renewable energy and secure more energy efficient homes and buildings as well as making places more resilient. The Cornwall Design Guide supports the policies in the DPD and sets out further detail on the Council's expectations.

Policies SEC1 (Sustainable Energy and Construction) and G3 (Canopy) are subject to transitional arrangements, with new validation requirements being introduced from 15 June 2023.

Policy G3 requires the submission of a tree canopy calculator and landscaping plans demonstrating 15% tree canopy cover for all major developments. Policy SEC1 'Sustainable Energy and Construction' introduces expectations on general energy performance and sustainable materials for all development. In particular, for full applications (and reserved matters where this has been conditioned) there are new energy standards for all new-build homes which need to be demonstrated through an Energy Statement (comprising an Energy Report and Energy Summary Tool). These standards need to be designed in at an early stage as orientation, layout, landscaping and materials affect energy efficiency. BREEAM Excellent (or an agreed alternative) is sought for major new-build non-residential development. The policy also seeks efficient use of water and materials and supports retrofitting to reduce carbon emissions and solar panels on existing buildings where sensitive to heritage assets and landscapes.

We have included more detailed updates on CEDPD policies SEC1 and G3 below.

For further information on the DPD, please see: Climate Emergency Development Plan Document \(DPD\) - Cornwall Council

Policy G3 Canopy guidance

The Cornwall Climate Emergency DPD 2023 details new requirements for planning applications. These requirements will help new development adapt to the declared Climate Emergency. It contains a suite of Natural Climate Solutions policies, G1-G4. Canopy Policy G3 is the result of close work between the Forestry and Planning Teams.

"Trees provide valuable habitats for wildlife and contribute to the wider landscape and the overall amenity of development. While all trees absorb carbon dioxide in the atmosphere, the right trees in the right places also provide wide ranging resilience to climate change by soaking up excess rainwater, filtering air pollution, reducing noise pollution and cooling the urban environment during periods of excess heat." (Cornwall Climate Emergency DPD). The aim of the Canopy Policy is to ensure that appropriate levels of canopy are well integrated into major and minor development proposals (householder and Change of Use are exempt). It does this through:

- prioritising the retention of existing trees
- use of a Canopy Calculator for major development
- requirement of climate resilient species choice for proposed canopy

The Canopy Calculator is a requirement for major developments only. It measures the spread of above-ground canopy and projects the canopy growth of tree species over a 25-year period. The required percentage by the end of 25 years is a minimum 15% unless a lower amount can be justified. The calculator has been adapted for Cornish conditions from a working canopy calculator in High Wycombe. The Council encourage feedback from Arboricultural Consultants on the calculator and the assumptions used within.

River Camel update - Septic tank and packaged treatment plants within the River Camel catchment area

The River Camel catchment has lots of properties that rely on septic tanks. Because these rarely have any phosphate stripping, they are essentially at high risk of contributing disproportionately to the phosphate levels in the river. Therefore, Cornwall Council are exploring what the potential could be to provide grant funding to enable upgrades to septic tanks or package treatment plants (small sewage treatment plants) within the River Camel Catchment Area to reduce the amount of phosphates that enter the River Camel.

In order to assess the opportunity, and the levels of grant and overall cost involved, we are looking for expressions of interest to help us work out the answers to those questions and what the take up of such a scheme might be. We are inviting expressions of interests from those within the River Camel Catchment Area.

We are also keen to hear from you if you are a contractor with relevant skills or experience, so we can understand the industry capacity if such a scheme were made available.

Please submit your expression of interest by visiting our River Camel phosphates mitigation strategy and policy - Cornwall Council webpage and completing the webform by Monday 12 June.

The septic tank or package treatment plant will need to be within the River Camel catchment area in order to be eligible. To see a map of the River Camel catchment area and for more information please see: Nutrient neutrality in Cornwall - Cornwall Council.

Expressions of interest from landholders in the River Camel catchment area

The Council, supported by the Westcountry Rivers Trust, is reaching out to landholders in the catchment to find sites where phosphates from agriculture can be reduced, to offset those being produced by new housing. The first window for expressions of interest ended Friday 14 April. For more information please see: Camel SAC Project - Westcountry Rivers Trust \(wrt.org.uk\)

Updated Developer Contributions Guidance

The Developer Contributions Guidance Note has recently been updated. The guidance note sets out Cornwall Council's approach to securing developer contributions and particularly focuses on planning obligations (s106s) and Community Infrastructure Levy (CIL).

The update includes:

- updating the administration/monitoring of planning obligations fees
- adding some information regarding the Renewable Energy (Offsetting) contribution, and
- a change to the Green Infrastructure-Open Space requirements in Table 1.

Updated protocol for Local Councils

The local council protocol (also referred to as the 5-day protocol) sets out how local councils are involved in the planning application process.

We updated the protocol in February to make it clearer that the Divisional Member must be contacted separately after the 5 days if no response has been received from the local council.

Changes to how removal or variation of a planning conditions are described

Due to a recent appeal decision, we need to make sure applications to develop land without compliance with previous conditions are described correctly. These are called removal or variation of conditions or Section 73 applications. These applications will be described as:

XXX (wording must be the existing approved description) without compliance with Condition X of Decision Notice XX dated XX

'Without compliance' can mean a condition or conditions are being removed or varied. You can find more detail on what the applicant wants to do by looking at Questions 5 and 6 on the application form.

The specific wording is taken from Section 73 of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990.

Please note the LPA cannot request the original approved plans but a list of drawing numbers affected should be submitted as part of an application, so that local councils can compare which plans are relevant.

Updated Validation Guide

On the 1 April Planning published its up-to-date Validation Guide including local list of requirements. This document can be found on our website here: Make a planning application - Cornwall Council under the heading 'Guidance'.

The document sets out information which is required to accompany planning applications, without this published local list we would not be able to request the information.

The document has been developed following a period of consultation which included internal and external consultees, parish and town councils, local members, applicants and agents and internal officers from Development Management and Planning Policy.

Over 50% of applications received are invalid on receipt due to missing or incorrect information. We hope that this new guide will increase the number of applications which are valid on receipt.

The new guide has:

- A better format – the new guide is broken down into application types which means users of the guide will not have to look through information which is not relevant. It also means the guide can be used as a checklist and we would encourage agents to do this.
- More guidance – helping applicants and agents know when information is required and what information is required.
- Advanced guidance – the guide also includes new requirements emerging from the Climate Emergency DPD which will be implemented over the coming months.

It is important that planning and applicants/agents work together to try and reduce the number of invalid applications. By reducing invalid applications:

- validation officer time freed up to process new applications
- applications processed quicker which benefits applicants

More information about our top invalidity reasons can be found on the Make a better application - Cornwall Council webpage.

The validation team are currently averaging at around 3 working days to validate planning applications. This is indicative of when most applications are validated, some applications may be processed earlier or later due to case officers front screening certain application types.

Invalid rates are still on the increase with missing information on plans being quite high on the list:

- Two of the most common errors are the use of 'Do Not Scale' and 'Use Figured dimensions only' stated on plans. This wording implies the scale provided cannot be relied upon. It is a National requirement that the LPA can scale from the plans.
- The second most common error is missing scale bars, these are not only for validation purposes but they also aid consultees and interested parties when viewing plans electronically. Therefore please ensure all plans submitted have a scale bar.
