1665.17 To consider the following Motion;

Motion Title: Formal Opposition to Cornwall Council's Street-lighting Switch-Off Plan in Redruth scheduled from 11th May 2026.

That Redruth Town Council writes a formal letter of objection to Cornwall Council regarding the planned street-lighting changes scheduled from 11th May 2026. Redruth Town Council requests that Cornwall Council exempts Redruth from this entirely, or, at a minimum, implements a "dimming-only profile" in place of any total blackouts.

This is in response to Cornwall Council's plan to switch-off street-lighting from 11th May 2026 in Redruth. The current plan is a full switch-off midnight to 5am Sunday through Thursday night, and ultra-dimmed midnight to 5am Friday & Saturday night.

1. Safety of Residents and Essential Shift Workers: Implementing a total switch-off between the hours of midnight and 5:00 AM creates a difficult environment for night shift employees and those who work irregular schedules. These hard-working residents are council tax payers and are entitled to a safe, well-lit commute and should not be forced to navigate unlit streets.

2. Pedestrian Safety on Historically Narrow Streets: Redruth is characterised by narrow paths and uneven pavements. Total darkness in these areas significantly escalates the risk of trips, falls, and injuries for any pedestrian traversing the town at night.

3. Road Safety and Critical Infrastructure Visibility: Severely diminished visibility prevents motorists and cyclists from identifying faded road markings, potholes, and other potential hazards in the carriageway. A complete cessation of street lighting compromises the fundamental safety of all road users, increasing the likelihood of avoidable vehicular accidents.

4. Disproportionate Impact on Vulnerable Groups: Residents living with visual impairments, or any disability that negatively affects sight and mobility, are effectively facing a de-facto "curfew." These individuals will be rendered unable to safely leave their homes during these hours, leading to increased isolation and a loss of independence.

5. Crime Prevention and Anti-Social Behaviour: While Cornwall Council cites ongoing police liaison, the public perception of safety is just as vital to community health as actual crime statistics. Darkened streets provide convenient cover for anti-social behaviour and criminal activity; furthermore, the safety of women and girls in these pitch-black conditions is a fundamental right that must be protected. Lack of light would also hinder residents' ability to accurately identify and report incidents to the authorities.

6. Council Tax Value vs. Diminishing Service Delivery: Local residents have consistently faced the maximum allowable year-on-year Council Tax increases. To withdraw a fundamental public safety service while simultaneously increasing the financial burden on households is unacceptable and represents a failure in the Council's duty of care to the community. In short, residents are being asked to pay more money to be significantly less safe.

Formal Conclusion:

While we acknowledge the pressing necessity of local government budget management, the safety and physical well-being of Redruth residents must not be the price paid for these financial savings. We strongly urge Cornwall Council to reconsider this policy and opt to exempt Redruth from the total switch-off. At an absolute minimum, we request the implementation of a "dimming-only" profile that maintains essential visibility while still achieving necessary energy efficiency targets.

1665.17.1 Cllr Cunningham asked for any data to understand the percentage of residents out during the specified timeline, to which Cllr Mays stated he did not have the data but was concerned more about public perception in paying more to receive less. Cllr Ellenbroek stated her own concerns over town safety and the implications the light switch-off would bring. Cllr Broad proposed that the lights turn ultra dim as a compromise and Cllr Mays agreed, stating his keenness to avoid a complete blackout. Cllr Morrison stated that there was an absence of complaints from areas where this had already occurred and proposed that more research should go into the motion.

Cllr Reeve asked if the lights were being switched off in areas covered by CCTV and the Town Clerk stated she was not certain as a map had not been sent by Cornwall Council. Cllr Ellenbroek proposed the amendment to defer the motion until more information was granted, moving it to the next Council meeting.

Cllr Mays accepted the amendment but reiterated the motion sat on the basis of public perception, and the Town Clerk stated they would be able to gather information from various avenues in order to make an informed decision.

1665.17.2 RESOLVED by Majority to defer making a decision on the motion in order to gather more information to make an informed decision [Proposed Cllr Ellenbroek; Seconded by Cllr Reeve] Cllr Selwood and Mays abstained.
